

To: Email address of the person you are sending it to

CC: Pause and consider if your email will have more impact if you also copy it to someone else

Subject line in email: [PROJECT NAME]

Dear [Name],

I am writing to voice my concerns about the [PROJECT NAME]

There are many reasons to object to the project, but the most important to me are the impacts this will have on [Choose which points you want to write about: The project in general / Local Communities / Heritage / Visual Impact / Farming / Environment / Climate / Nature Emergency / Tourism/Local Economy / Other]

- Bullet point your concerns here and write a clear and concise paragraph about each one to make it easy for the recipient to understand.
- Multiple concerns? Consider writing more than one letter to make each point easier to consider.
- Be polite

Many are concerned about the industrialisation of Mid Wales. You may believe that its low population density allows it to be exploited, but that is not the case. Those of us who live here care deeply for our homes, friends, businesses, and environment, and we intend to vigorously defend them. [write in your own words or devise your own ending]

Yours faithfully,

*** name (printed) ***

*** your address ***